

Your Honor,

Thank you for the opportunity to speak today. I stand here with the utmost urgency to express my deep commitment and unwavering love for this child. From the moment they came into my life, it was clear that we were meant to be a family.

This child deserves stability, love, and a nurturing environment, which I am fully prepared to provide. I understand the importance of this decision and assure you that I am ready to offer everything they need to thrive.

Please consider the bond we have formed and the positive future I am determined to create for them. Our home is ready, and our hearts are open. I earnestly seek your permission to make our family complete.

Thank you for considering my plea.
