

Ladies and gentlemen,

Today, we gather here to celebrate a most beautiful journey, the journey of adoption. It's a journey of love, of unity, and of creating an unbreakable bond that transcends blood and origin.

To the wonderful family who is opening their hearts today, your decision to adopt is a testament to the limitless love and compassion you embody. You are choosing to offer a child not just a home, but a space filled with laughter, care, and endless possibilities.

And to the cherished child, know that you are joining a family that eagerly awaits you, ready to embrace you as their own. This is the beginning of a new chapter, where each moment will be filled with support and love.

Together, you are not just forming a family; you are uniting hearts and building a future where love knows no bounds.

Thank you all for being part of this joyous occasion, and for witnessing this powerful affirmation of love. May this day be the start of a beautiful life together, bound in heartfelt unity.

Thank you.
