

Ladies and gentlemen,

Thank you all so much for this incredible honor. Receiving this award is like finding out your pants have pockets--it's unexpected and delightful! But today, I must politely decline. Why, you ask? Well, for one, my mantelpiece is already sagging under the weight of all my past failures--you don't want to be responsible for a shelf catastrophe, do you? Besides, I came here tonight for the free snacks, not the accolades. Now, don't get me wrong, I'm deeply touched, but I once saw someone turn down an award on TV, and let me tell you, it's been a life goal ever since. Please, reallocate this prize to someone more deserving--like the person who finally figured out how to unmute themselves on all those video calls.

Thank you again for the gesture. You guys are the real MVPs. Enjoy the evening!
