Subject: Gratitude and Next Steps Following Thesis Rejection

Dear [Advisor/Committee Members' Names],

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to express my gratitude for your valuable feedback and guidance throughout my thesis journey.

Despite the rejection of my thesis, I deeply appreciate the time and effort you dedicated to reviewing my work.

Your insights have highlighted critical areas for improvement, and I am committed to addressing these issues. I understand the importance of a thorough and well-supported thesis and am eager to refine my research to meet the expected standards.

I would like to request a meeting to discuss your feedback in more detail and explore possible directions for revising my work. Your continued support and mentorship are invaluable to me as I navigate this process.

Thank you once again for your guidance and understanding. I am determined to use this experience as an opportunity for growth and learning.

Warm regards,
