

Certainly! Here's a simple example of a speech for a project bid rejection:

---

Good afternoon [Name/Team],

Thank you for your recent submission for the [Project Name] proposal. We sincerely appreciate the effort and creativity that went into your presentation. After careful consideration, we have decided to move forward with another vendor for this project.

Please understand that this decision was incredibly challenging due to the high quality of your bid. We were impressed by your innovative approach and attention to detail, which stood out significantly.

We highly value our relationship with you and are eager to explore future collaborations. We will keep your company in mind for upcoming opportunities where your expertise will be a perfect fit, and we encourage you to stay connected with our procurement team.

Thank you once again for your interest and the effort you put into the proposal. We look forward to the possibility of working together on future initiatives.

Warm regards,

[Your Name]

[Your Position]

[Company Name]

---