Dear [Partner's Name],

Thank you for considering our organization for a potential partnership.

We sincerely appreciate the time and effort you've invested in developing your proposal.

After careful review and alignment with our strategic objectives, we have decided not to move forward with the partnership at this time. Our current priorities lead us in a different direction, focusing on key areas that better align with our immediate goals.

We value your understanding and look forward to any future opportunities where our paths might align.

Best regards,
