

Honorable Speaker,

I rise today to voice my objection to the proposed legislation. While I respect the intentions behind this bill, I have several concerns that need to be addressed before we can move forward.

Firstly, the current draft lacks clarity on its financial implications, which could significantly strain our already tight budget. Secondly, the proposed measures might inadvertently affect vulnerable communities, and it is imperative that we safeguard their interests.

I urge my fellow members to reconsider the bill in its current form and work towards revisions that address these issues. Let us ensure that any legislation we pass is both fiscally responsible and equitable for all constituents.

Thank you.
