

Good morning, everyone!

I am so grateful to see all of your beautiful faces here today. Each of you brings something special to our community, and it fills my heart with joy to gather together in this sacred space.

In times of challenge and uncertainty, it is easy to feel weighed down by worries. But let us remember the power of hope. Hope is the light that guides us through the darkest nights. It is the spark that ignites change in our hearts and in the world around us.

Today, let us lift each other up with encouragement and love. Let us be the voice of hope in our families, among our friends, and within our communities. Know that no matter what struggles you may face, you are never alone. We are a family here, united by faith and bound by love. Leave today with renewed strength and a heart full of hope. Together, let us shine brightly and be the beacon of hope the world so desperately needs.

Blessings to each and every one of you. Thank you.
