

Welcome, dear friends, to this joyous affair,
As we gather to show just how much we care.
A baby girl's coming, the apple of our eye,
Soon to twinkle like stars in the vast nighttime sky.
With giggles and coos, and tiny little feet,
She'll fill our hearts, making life so sweet.
A bundle of joy wrapped in blankets with bows,
Her laughter and smiles, oh, how they will glow!
Tickled pink by her charm, and her little bitty charms,
We'll hold her so close in the cradle of our arms.
Songs will be sung, and dreams gently spun,
In this whimsical world of delight and fun.
So let's toast to the journey of motherhood dear,
As we shower this daughter with love and with cheer.
May her life be magical, with a touch of delight,
Guided by love, shining ever so bright.
Thank you all for joining, on this beautiful day,
As we celebrate our baby girl, hip-hip-hooray!
