

Ladies and gentlemen,

Thank you all for joining us today to celebrate this exciting new chapter for [Parent(s) Name(s)]. As we gather here in the nursery of life's little miracles, I'd like to start by highlighting just how remarkable this event is--not only because we're welcoming a future leader, innovator, and possibly the next CEO of Cute & Cuddly Industries, but because we're doing it surrounded by such incredible support.

We're here to shower [Parent(s) Name(s)] with love, advice, and perhaps most importantly, diapers! Let's face it; this tiny newcomer is set to deliver a fiscal demand on Maternity & Paternity Inc.'s inventory like never before. But fear not, because this team is ready to handle any crisis, from late-night feedings to unexpected burp supply chain disruptions.

As you prepare to become a parent, remember that you're not alone: you've got this room full of shareholders in your family enterprise, all investing support and laughter during what will surely be some wild and wonderful quarters ahead.

So, let's raise a toast, pour the apple juice, and nibble on some cupcakes as we gear up for the arrival of our new junior associate. Congratulations, and here's to happy returns and endless cuddles! Cheers!
