

Ladies and gentlemen,

Thank you all for gathering here today to celebrate such a beautiful occasion. As we prepare to welcome this precious little one into our lives, my heart is overflowing with emotion and gratitude.

To my dear friends and family, your presence here means the world to us. Your love, support, and kindness are a true gift as we embark on this new journey. Thank you for sharing in our joy and for the warmth you've shown.

To the little miracle on the way, you are already so loved. We are eagerly waiting to hold you, to nurture you, and to watch you grow. You have blessed our lives in ways we couldn't have imagined, even before your arrival.

And to everyone here today, thank you for being part of this special day. Your love and encouragement will forever be cherished.

With all my heart, thank you.
