

Ladies and gentlemen, friends, family, and those who just came for the free food,

Welcome to our humble abode! Or should I say, welcome to our brand new (and slightly overwhelming) den of potential home improvement projects. Yes, it's true, buying a house was much easier than figuring out how to use those mysterious switches and wondering if the ghost in the attic comes with the warranty.

We couldn't be happier to have you all here to help us break in the new digs, and by that, I mean: please don't literally break anything because we just installed the flooring... last night.

As you explore, please note the tasteful decor choices and ignore the areas where we ran out of paint halfway. Who knew measuring walls was a thing?

On a serious note, we're thrilled to start this new chapter with such amazing friends and family by our side. We hope this house becomes a place filled with laughter, love, and maybe the occasional margarita spill.

Thank you all for being here to celebrate our new home. Cheers to wonderful memories ahead! Now, who's ready for the tour that includes our very modern, and totally functional, cardboard box storage system?

Enjoy and party on!
