

Ladies and gentlemen, gather 'round! First off, thank you all for coming to our brand-new abode, or as we like to call it, our "permanent construction zone."

As you can see, we've finally upgraded from our shoebox apartment to this beautiful house, which came with a bonus: a mortgage! Yes, we've traded in landlords for lawn care and leaky faucets for... well, let's be honest, probably still leaky faucets.

To our family, who always said, "You're crazy," we say, "You're right, but now we have guest rooms for you to tell us that in person!" Also, thanks in advance for helping with all the home-improvement projects you can now access in 3D.

To our friends, who always believed in our questionable taste, we promise to keep the bar stocked and the WiFi password hidden, so you'll have to visit again.

Here's to laughter in our living room, love in our hearts, and a very, very sturdy roof over our heads. May our door always be open to you... as long as you bring dessert. Cheers!
