

Ladies and gentlemen,

I want to take a moment to thank each and every one of you for being here today to celebrate this special occasion with us. As I look around this beautiful new home, I am flooded with memories of the past and filled with hope for the future.

This place, though new, is already a repository of love and dreams. I remember the kitchen from our childhood home, where laughter resonated through shared meals and stories. It was more than just a room; it was where we learned the importance of family.

The living room, now bathed in this warmth and joy, brings back memories of countless game nights and holiday gatherings where bonds grew stronger and laughter was a common language. Those were days when time seemed to stand still, and every moment was cherished.

As we step into this new chapter, I envision it as a canvas for creating new memories, much like the ones that comfort us from the past. May this home be blessed with the same joy, laughter, and love.

Once again, thank you all for being part of our journey. Your presence here today is not just support for this new venture, but a reminder that home is built on shared moments and cherished friendships.

Here's to new beginnings and lasting memories. Welcome, everyone, to our new home.
