

Ladies and gentlemen,

Thank you all for joining us on this wonderful occasion. Today is a special day as we gather to celebrate my daughter's new home. Watching her step into this new chapter fills my heart with joy and nostalgia. It feels like just yesterday she was a little girl, building forts out of blankets and dreaming of far-off places. Those dreams have brought her here, to this beautiful new home. It's a true reflection of her warmth, love, and spirit.

May this house be filled with laughter, love, and unforgettable memories, just as our home was growing up. Here's to new beginnings, cherished moments, and to a life filled with happiness for my dear daughter. Congratulations, sweetheart. We love you more than words can say. Cheers to your new adventure!
