

Ladies and gentlemen,

Today, we are gathered here to celebrate a beautiful milestone in the lives of two wonderful people--my dear parents--as they step into this new chapter of their lives with their charming new home.

From the first moments of life, they have provided a loving and nurturing environment, and today, in this new abode, I know that warmth and care will continue to grow and flourish. Their tireless dedication to creating a joyful and harmonious space is nothing short of inspiring.

May this home be filled with laughter, love, and countless cherished memories. Here's to creating a future packed with happiness and peace in this beautiful dwelling.

Thank you all for joining us on this delightful occasion. Cheers to my parents and their lovely new home!