

Ladies and gentlemen,

Welcome to our home! We are overjoyed to have you all here today to celebrate this special occasion. Moving into a new house is a remarkable milestone, and it wouldn't feel complete without sharing it with our dear friends and family.

This house already feels more like a home because of each one of you here today. Your presence fills these walls with laughter, love, and warmth.

We are truly blessed to have such incredible people in our lives.

Let's raise a glass to new beginnings, to the memories we've made and those yet to come, and to all the cherished times we'll share under this roof. Here's to laughter, joy, and endless happiness in this new chapter!

Thank you all for being part of this special day.

Cheers!