

Ladies and gentlemen,

As we gather here today in this splendid setting, I am filled with immense joy and gratitude. Welcome to our new abode, a place we are delighted to now call home.

This house, walls echoing with warmth and spaces filled with potential, is more than just a structure. It is the fruit of our dreams and endeavors, now shared with those dearest to us. In its halls, may laughter and love find their perpetual residence.

We are profoundly grateful for your presence here today. Your companionship and well-wishes enrich our happiness beyond measure. May this house be a vessel of cherished memories and a haven for gatherings such as this.

Thank you for honoring us with your presence on this momentous occasion.

Let us look forward to many joyous celebrations within these walls.

Please, enjoy the festivities and know that you are always welcome.

Thank you.