

Dear friends and family,

We gather today in joy and thanksgiving as we bless this new home. First, let us give thanks to God for allowing us this beautiful moment. This home is not just built with bricks and wood, but with love, dreams, and hopes for the future.

Let us thank everyone who has supported this journey. Your prayers and well-wishes have blessed this family abundantly. May this home be a haven of peace, filled with laughter, health, and divine protection.

As you cross this threshold, may you always find warmth in the winter, light in the darkness, and the presence of the Holy Spirit in every corner. May it be a place where joy is shared, love grows, and grace abounds.

Thank you all for being part of this special day. May God bless you, and may this home be a blessing to all who enter.

Amen.
