

Good morning, fellow students and esteemed teachers!

My name is Alex, and I'm running for class representative. It's great to see so many smiling faces--especially considering it's Monday morning!

Now, I'm not going to promise a soda fountain in the hallway or propose replacing math class with mandatory naps. Although, let's be honest, those are both genius ideas.

Instead, I'm here to convince you with my three-step program: cupcakes, laughter, and, of course, my incredible dance moves.

Firstly, cupcakes--everyone knows I'm in good with the baking club. As your representative, I will ensure that no one will go cupcake-less during bake sales.

Secondly, laughter. I promise to keep things light and fun, because after all, laughter is the best medicine, unless you're actually sick--then you should definitely see the nurse.

Lastly, those dance moves. Not only will I work hard for you all, but I'll also work hard on the dance floor at our next school party. Hey, why not keep things entertaining?

I'd love to have your vote and represent this amazing group of people. Remember: a vote for Alex is a vote for happiness, humor, and maybe the occasional cupcake.

Thank you!
