

Ladies and gentlemen,

I stand before you today to address a misunderstanding that has arisen from my recent public statement. I want to take this opportunity to sincerely apologize for any confusion or distress my words may have caused.

Upon reflection, I realize that my message was not as clear as it should have been, and I take full responsibility for any misinterpretations that followed. It was never my intention to mislead or offend anyone.

I am committed to being transparent and ensuring that my words accurately reflect my intentions moving forward. Thank you for your understanding, and thank you for holding me accountable.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
