

Ladies and gentlemen,

As I stand here tonight, I am flooded with a mix of emotions--gratitude, nostalgia, and excitement for the future. It's truly an honor to be surrounded by dear colleagues and friends who have been so integral to my journey.

Reflecting on these years, I recall the laughter we've shared, the challenges we've overcome, and the countless memories that have made this workplace feel like a second home. Each project and every task brought us closer, and together, we achieved milestones that truly made a difference.

I am endlessly grateful for the support and camaraderie that you have all shown me, and I carry with me lessons and stories that will last a lifetime. To my mentors who have guided me, and to my colleagues who have inspired me, your impact has been immeasurable.

As I embark on this new chapter, I take with me the warmth of your friendship and the invaluable experiences we've shared. Thank you for making these years so meaningful. I will cherish them always.

Here's to new beginnings, for all of us. Thank you.
