

Ladies and gentlemen, runners and supporters,
Thank you for gathering today for this incredible charity marathon in support of our local orphanage. Each step you take, each mile you conquer, is a testament to the power of community and compassion. You are not just running a race; you are running for a brighter future for children who need it most. Your determination today plants seeds of hope and opportunity in the lives of these wonderful kids. With every stride, you are helping build a path to education, security, and a loving environment they can call home.

Remember, the journey today may be challenging, but the impact is monumental. Let your heart guide each step, knowing you are part of something bigger than yourselves. Together, we are lighting up lives, one mile at a time.

Thank you for your energy, your spirit, and your unwavering support. Let's make a difference today that resonates far beyond the finish line! Now, let's run with purpose and change the world for these children. Thank you!
