

Our hearts are heavy, as we gather here today,
To honor a friend who has gone away.
With wagging tail and loyal eyes,
Our beloved companion now rests in the skies.
Through playful days and cozy nights,
You brought us joy and pure delights.
In fields of green, you ran so free,
A cherished soul, forever to be.
You taught us love of the purest kind,
A bond unyielding, heart and mind.
Though your paws no longer tread this earth,
In our memories, you'll find rebirth.
Rest now, dear friend, in eternal peace,
Your spirit lives on, our love will never cease.
And as the sun sets, we'll look above,
Remembering you with unending love.
