

Ladies and gentlemen,

Today, we gather with hearts full of gratitude and memories as we honor the life of our beloved parent, who blessed us with unconditional love and wisdom. In the serene journey of their life, they taught us the true essence of kindness, resilience, and joy.

Though they have moved on from this world, their spirit and teachings remain with us, guiding us gently like a calm river that flows steadily. Let us cherish every joyful moment we shared, every lesson learned, and continue to live by their noble example--spreading love and peace wherever we go.

Thank you for joining us in this special remembrance. May their soul rest in eternal serenity.
