

Good afternoon, everyone.

We gather here today to honor and remember someone who was more than just a classmate to many of us. [Classmate's Name] was a friend, a confidant, and a source of encouragement who touched our lives in countless ways.

As we share memories and stories today, let us hold onto the joy and laughter that [Name] brought into our lives. It is in these moments we find comfort and celebrate the beautiful impact they left behind.

In times like these, it's important to lean on each other for strength and support. So let's continue to be there for one another, just as [Classmate's Name] would want us to.

Thank you all for coming together to remember [Name]. Let us cherish the memories and keep their spirit alive in our hearts.
