

Ladies and gentlemen, if I can have your attention, please! Gather 'round as we celebrate someone who is just like a fine wine--getting better, but still occasionally giving us a headache! Yes, it's [Name]'s birthday, and we've all made it here today, which is a minor miracle considering some of us can't even set up a Zoom call without help.

Now, [Name], I remember when we first met. You were full of dreams, aspirations, and all that energy! These days, your dreams mostly involve taking a nap, your aspirations are to find your glasses when they're on your head, and your energy has the stamina of a sloth on a Monday morning.

But honestly, we're all just grateful to be here with you today, rather than scrolling through our social media feeds pretending to be productive. We've assembled your favorite people, a cake bigger than your last Amazon order, and enough candles to require a fire extinguisher on standby.

In all seriousness, [Name], you bring so much joy, laughter, and slightly questionable dance moves into our lives. We treasure every moment with you, even when you insist on singing karaoke slightly off-key.

So, here's to you, [Name]! May your birthday be filled with lots of laughs, love, and maybe even a moment where you don't lose your phone three times in one day. Cheers!
