

Ladies and gentlemen, gather near,
For today we celebrate someone so dear.
A guiding light, a heart so bright,
It's our beloved mother we honor tonight.
Through the years, her smile has shone,
A beacon of love, we've always known.
Her words like a melody, soothing and clear,
In her presence, we find no fear.
With gentle hands and loving embrace,
She taught us compassion, hope, and grace.
In every challenge, she's our steadfast cheer,
A mother's love, unmatched and sincere.
So let the candles flicker with delight,
As we wish her joy on this special night.
Happy birthday, dear mother, our eternal song,
In our hearts, you forever belong.
To a life of laughter, joy, and cheer,
We raise our cheers for another great year.
Here's to you, our guiding star,
For the incredible mother you are.
