

Ladies and gentlemen,

I am truly honored to be standing here tonight, receiving this recognition. I want to start by saying that this award is not just mine, but belongs to all the volunteers who have worked alongside me. Your dedication and hard work are what make everything possible.

Volunteering is about making a difference, and each of you does that every day with kindness and compassion. It is a privilege to be part of such an incredible team. Together, we have touched lives and strengthened our community.

Thank you to the organizers and everyone who thought of me for this award. It inspires me to continue giving my best, surrounded by all of you. Let's keep working together to make the world a better place.

Thank you.
