

In fields of green where sunlight beams,
A faithful friend now roams in dreams.
With wagging tail and eyes so bright,
A beacon in our darkest night.
Through morning dew and twilight's call,
By our side, you gave your all.
In tiny paws, great love you bore,
A heart so pure, forevermore.
We cherish moments, simple yet sweet,
Pawed imprints in our memory seat.
Though you've crossed the rainbow's end,
Your spirit lingers, dearest friend.
In playful winds, your barks we hear,
In rustling leaves, we feel you near.
Rest now, dear soul, in endless play,
In heart and soul, you'll always stay.
