

Ladies and gentlemen, gather near,
For tonight we celebrate someone dear.
In this space adorned with cheer and light,
Let laughter echo through the night.
May the candles dance on the cake so bright,
And wishes take flight into the starry night.
A year has passed, rich and bold,
With memories crafted in stories told.
So raise a glass, let the toasts ring clear,
To the one we cherish, year after year.
With love and joy, let this moment stay,
As we honor the shining star of today.
Happy birthday, dear friend, let the joy never shy,
May your dreams soar high, as the years go by.
