

Ladies and gentlemen, boys and girls, esteemed guests, and everyone who just wandered in looking for free snacks, welcome to our annual Awards Ceremony! I'm so thrilled to be your host today. If I mess up, just pretend it's intentional--we'll call it part of the comedy act!

We're here to celebrate some truly outstanding achievements. But let's not forget, just being here makes us all winners. Except we can't all take home a trophy, some of us will have to settle for a round of applause and a dessert from the buffet table later.

Now, as we go through the awards, remember: it's not about winning or losing, it's about keeping a straight face even when an unexpected name is announced. And remember, your clapping not only helps cheer on your colleagues, but it also counts as today's exercise. So, put those hands together and get ready for a fun-filled evening!

Now, without further ado, let's get on with the awards! May the best--or perhaps luckiest--person win!
