

Ladies and gentlemen, esteemed faculty, distinguished guests, and dear students,

I stand before you today filled with immense gratitude and deep humility. Receiving this honorary degree is a profound honor that I perhaps have only dared to dream of. It is not just a recognition of my work, but a testament to the shared vision and efforts of many individuals who have guided and supported me along this journey.

I would like to thank the university for this generous recognition. This place of learning represents a beacon of knowledge and innovation, shaping the minds that will guide our future. To be associated with such an institution is truly humbling.

This honor is not mine alone. It belongs equally to my family, who have been my steadfast pillars of support. It belongs to my mentors, who saw potential in me and nurtured it. And it belongs to my colleagues, who have walked alongside me, sharing both challenges and triumphs.

To the students here today, let this recognition be a reminder that perseverance and dedication are your allies. Strive not just for success, but for significance in the lives you touch.

I am deeply thankful for this acknowledgment and will carry it with pride and responsibility. May we all continue to learn and contribute to a better world.

Thank you.
