

Good morning, everyone!

What a beautiful day it is to gather together and celebrate this Sunday service with all of you. I see so many bright faces, and I feel the spirit of joy and community in this room.

Today, let's talk about joy--the true, deep joy that comes from our hearts. It's the kind of joy that doesn't depend on our circumstances but stems from our connection with one another and with something greater than ourselves.

Imagine waking up each day with a sense of peace and purpose, feeling grateful for the little things and the big things alike. It's about finding happiness in simple moments--a smile from a loved one, the warmth of the sun, or the kindness of a stranger.

Let's carry this joy with us as we go through the week. Share your smile freely, extend a helping hand, and savor every moment. Together, let's create a ripple effect of happiness in our community and beyond.

As we continue our service today, let's open our hearts and minds to receive and share this joy. Let it guide us, inspire us, and remind us of the beauty in every day.

Thank you for being here and for being a part of this wonderful journey.

Let's rejoice together in love, peace, and happiness.

Have a blessed Sunday!
