

Ladies and gentlemen, fellow citizens of the world,
We gather here today as a united voice for justice--a justice that transcends borders and generations. Our planet is in peril due to unchecked climate change, and it is the most vulnerable among us who face the greatest threats.
We seek a world where clean air and water, renewable energy, and sustainable practices are not privileges for the few, but rights for all. Today, we demand action from our leaders. We demand policies that protect our environment and our future.
Let us stand together, not just in defense of our planet but in pursuit of a fairer, more equitable world. Because climate justice is global justice, and together, we can make a difference.
Thank you.
