

Fellow students,

Today we stand together, united and strong, to voice our right to a better future. Our education is our foundation, and we deserve a learning environment that empowers, nurtures, and respects us.

We are here because we believe in equal opportunities for every student, irrespective of background. We demand access to resources that are essential for our success--be it up-to-date textbooks, functional facilities, or qualified educators who inspire and guide us.

Hear our voices as we call for transparency in decision-making processes that affect our education. We deserve to have a say in policies that shape our academic lives.

Let us be clear: we are not asking for favors. We demand what is rightfully ours, what is just, and what will propel us towards a brighter future. The time for change is now, and together we will make our voices heard.

Thank you.
