

My friends, my family, my community,
We gather here today, united by a shared hope for a brighter future.
Mental health touches every aspect of our lives, and it is time we address it with the attention and care it deserves.
We stand together, not in anger, but in hope; not in division, but in unity. Let us envision a society where mental health support is not a privilege but a right for all. A world where reaching out for help is met with open arms and understanding hearts.
Every voice here matters, and together, we can create a ripple of change.
Let's be the generation that breaks the silence, that shatters the stigma, and that stands strong for those who cannot stand alone.
Together, we are powerful. Together, we are unstoppable. Together, we will make a difference.
Thank you.
