

Ladies and gentlemen,

We gather here today with a shared purpose and a common goal: to stand against censorship laws that threaten our freedom of expression. Each one of us knows that our voices matter, and today we are here to ensure they are heard!

Censorship is a powerful tool used to silence opinions, control narratives, and suppress creativity. It's the very antithesis of the freedom that forms the bedrock of our society. When you take away a person's ability to speak or write freely, you strip away their power to inspire change and their right to be heard.

We are not advocating for chaos, but for balance--a space where ideas can be shared openly, where disagreements can foster understanding, and where creativity is nurtured, not stifled. Censorship laws put a muzzle on progress, and by standing here today, we say enough is enough!

We want a future where ideas can flourish without fear, where our voices echo freely, and where society is strengthened through open dialogue. Together, we are stronger. Let's keep pushing for our right to be heard, to be free, and to shape a better future. Thank you!
