

Ladies and gentlemen,

Thank you for gathering here today. We stand united in defense of our fundamental civil liberties, rights that define us as individuals and as a society. We are here because everyone deserves the freedom to speak, to gather, to express their beliefs without fear.

Each voice matters, and together, we are stronger. Today, we remind those in power that our liberties are not up for debate. We demand transparency, justice, and equality for all.

Let's make our voices heard loud and clear. Let's show our solidarity and commitment to fight for our rights today, tomorrow, and always.

Thank you.