

Ladies and gentlemen,

Thank you all for being here today to celebrate this beautiful milestone in our dear friend's life. As we gather to shower our best friend with love and happiness, let's take a moment to appreciate the journey that has brought us here.

To my dear friend, you are stepping into a new chapter, full of joy, love, and adventures. Your kindness, strength, and laughter have always been a guiding light for us all, and now, you are about to share that light with someone incredibly special.

May your days be filled with as much joy as you bring to those around you, and may your love continue to grow and flourish. Remember, we will always be here cheering you on, through the laughter and the tears. Here's to love, laughter, and a lifetime of happiness. We love you dearly and couldn't be more excited for this next adventure. Cheers!