

Ladies and gentlemen,

Today, we gather to honor and say goodbye to a remarkable woman - my grandmother. She taught us kindness, strength, and the importance of family. Her laughter filled our lives with joy, and her wisdom guided us through many moments.

Though it is hard to say goodbye, we find peace in knowing she lived a full and beautiful life, surrounded by love. Let us remember her not just with sadness, but with gratitude for all the memories she gave us.

May we carry her spirit forward, cherishing each other as she cherished us. Thank you, Grandma, for everything. We love you now and always.

Rest peacefully.
