

Ladies and gentlemen,
We gather here today, beneath the vast sky,
To honor a soul who has left us, yet lingers nearby.
Our dear Uncle, a beacon of light,
Guided us all with wisdom so bright.
His laughter was music, a melody sweet,
In his presence, our hearts found a steady beat.
He wore kindness, like a crown upon his brow,
And offered his hand, in times both then and now.
He walked with grace on paths so wide,
With love as his compass, and truth as his guide.
Childhood stories he shared, with gleaming eyes,
Turning simple moments into precious ties.
Though he's gone, leaving a silent space,
In our hearts, he forever finds a sacred place.
We'll cherish his memory, the legacy he's given,
For by his love, we've all been gently driven.
So let us remember, with tears and a smile,
The uncle who made every moment worthwhile.
He's now with the stars, in eternal rest,
A beloved soul, forever blessed.
Thank you.
