

Beneath the shimmering moon's gentle embrace,
We gather here in this magical place,
To celebrate a soul so bright and true,
A friend like none, dear and cherished too.
In the garden of life, you are the rose,
Blooming with grace as each year flows.
Through laughter and tears, you've stood by my side,
With a heart of gold and arms open wide.
Oh, birthday star, shine your light,
Guide us through the darkest night.
With dreams as vast as the endless skies,
May joy and love forever arise.
Here's to a friendship that's tender and rare,
A bond built on memories we lovingly share.
Raise your glass to the wonders untold,
To the stories of friendship, never growing old.
So let's dance to the melody of time,
In harmony, our spirits will chime.
Happy birthday, dear friend, may you always know,
In the garden of hearts, you'll forever grow.
