

My Dearest Love,
On this day of mirth and grace,
The world shines brighter in your embrace.
With each dawn, my heart you claim,
As gentle whispers breathe your name.
You are the sun, my guiding star,
In life's grand voyage, both near and far.
Your smile, the art that paints my skies,
A living poem in your eyes.
As years unfold, our tale each season,
You are my why, my every reason.
I praise the day you graced this earth,
In you I've found both joy and worth.
So here's to you, my heart's delight,
On this your precious, blessed night.
May love and laughter weave around,
In every moment, magic found.
Happy Birthday, my eternal muse.
