

Ladies and gentlemen,

Today, we gather to celebrate a truly special occasion--the birthday of my beloved sister. As we mark this day, I am filled with immense gratitude and admiration for the remarkable person she has become. From the very beginning, she has been a source of inspiration and strength to all of us. Her kindness, intelligence, and grace light up our lives and serve as a testament to the incredible woman she is. Sister, on your special day, may you know how deeply you are loved and cherished. May the year ahead bring you abundant joy, success, and fulfillment. We are so proud of you and look forward to celebrating many more birthdays together. Please join me in raising a glass to my sister--happy birthday! Thank you.
