

Ladies and gentlemen,

Thank you all for being here today to celebrate this special occasion.

Today, we honor and cherish my beloved son on his birthday.

As I stand here, I find myself reflecting on the incredible journey we've shared so far. It feels like just yesterday when I held him in my arms for the first time, overwhelmed by a love I never knew was possible.

Watching him grow, learn, and explore the world has been the greatest joy of my life.

To my dear son, I want you to know how proud I am of the person you are becoming. Your kindness, curiosity, and strength inspire me every day. As you add another year to your life, remember that you are surrounded by people who love and support you, no matter where life takes you.

May this year bring you happiness, growth, and beautiful memories. Always know that my love for you is boundless.

Happy Birthday, my dear son. Here's to many more amazing years together.

Thank you all once again for celebrating this day with us.
