

Ladies and gentlemen,

As we gather here today, it's hard to believe that we're saying goodbye. It's a bittersweet moment, filled with gratitude and a touch of nostalgia. Each of you has contributed to making this journey unforgettable, and for that, I thank you from the bottom of my heart. Over the years, we've shared so much--laughter, tears, successes, and even a few setbacks. These moments have not only strengthened my resolve but have also taught me invaluable lessons about friendship and resilience.

To my colleagues who have been my support system, your camaraderie has meant the world to me. To my mentors, thank you for your guidance and wisdom. And to everyone I've had the privilege of working alongside, thank you for the memories we've created together.

As I embark on this new chapter, I carry with me the warmth and inspiration you've all given me. Although I'm excited about what the future holds, know that you will all be dearly missed and fondly remembered.

Here's to all of you, to new beginnings, and to cherishing the moments that truly matter. Thank you.
