

Ladies and gentlemen, fellow veterans,

As I stand here today, I am filled with a profound sense of gratitude and nostalgia. Looking around, I see not just old comrades but cherished friends, brothers and sisters who have shared experiences and moments that have shaped who we are.

We gather today to remember and reflect on the journey we've traveled together. Each story we've told, every laugh we've shared, and every tear we've shed has woven a tapestry of memories that remind us of the bonds we forged in times of challenge and triumph.

Our time in the service was defined by camaraderie, resilience, and an unyielding dedication to each other and our mission. Those days, whether spent on distant shores or in the quiet moments of reflection, remain etched in our hearts.

Today is about reminiscing the past, celebrating the present, and looking forward to the days ahead. Let us remember those who are no longer with us and honor the sacrifices made by so many. May their courage continue to inspire us.

As we reconnect and share stories, let's hold onto the spirit of unity and support that has always been the foundation of our relationships.

Though we have walked different paths since our service, this reunion is a reminder that the ties we forged are never broken and that we are, and always will be, a family.

Thank you all for being here, for your service, and for the cherished memories we all share.

Here's to us, to our past, present, and future. Cheers!
