

Hello everyone,

Wow, what a crowd! Who knew saying "yes" could gather more people than a free bar at a wedding? I'm just kidding, of course--there's a free bar here, too!

First of all, let's give a round of applause to the stars of tonight: [Name] and [Name]. They deserve it, not just for their engagement, but for putting up with each other's jokes for this long. Love truly is patient!

[Name], you asked [Name] to marry you; despite knowing all the odd quirks, like how they insist on putting pineapple on pizza, which some might say is grounds for annulment. But that's love for you--seeing the flaws and thinking, "I'm up for that lifetime of compromise."

And [Name], you said yes, without any hesitation, except for maybe double-checking if [Name] can actually cook anything but instant noodles. I mean, survival is important!

All jokes aside, you two truly are perfect for one another. You've built a relationship on love, laughter, and the occasional debate over which way the toilet paper should hang--or, in other words, the essentials for a long-lasting marriage.

So, let's raise our glasses to many years of happiness, endless adventures, and laughter together. Congratulations on your engagement! Cheers!
