

Ladies and gentlemen,

If I could have your attention, but don't worry, I'm not going to make you watch a slideshow of embarrassing childhood photos--although that's not completely off the table for the wedding!

First, let me say congratulations to [Partner 1] and [Partner 2] on their engagement. I think we can all agree that these two make a perfect match, like peanut butter and jelly or Netflix and far too many hours on the couch!

Now, I know an engagement is usually a time for serious advice and heartfelt words of wisdom, but we all know that the best advice comes from the bottom of a fortune cookie... and possibly your mother-in-law! So my advice is to continue laughing together, even if it's just because your partner's joke is so bad you can't help but laugh.

Here's to love, laughter, and a happily ever after! May your life together be filled with more good times than dance lessons, and may your love grow stronger than your WiFi signal.

Cheers to [Partner 1] and [Partner 2]! Let's enjoy the party!

Thank you!